Farmers are fulfilling obligation

The South Florida Water Management District reports that permit applications for the Districts Everglades Agricultural Area (EAA) Regulatory Program have been received from 99.5 percent of the land users within the EAA.

"This is very encouraging first-time application rate for a new permitting program," said Tilford C. Creel, executive director of the District. The permitting process is one of the key components of the District's overall Everglades restoration effort.

The application fee for the "Works of the District" permit requires a description of how farmers will achieve a reduction in phosphorus through the use of on-site "best management practices" (BMP's). They include, but are not limited to - changes in the use of fertilizers and improved water management practices on the farm fields.

Compliance with the EAA Regulatory Program will begin May 1, 1995 when the District will monitor, for 12 months, the amount of phosphorus in water leaving the EAA.

If phosphorus from the entire EAA is not reduced by 25 percent, the District will then take action to see that improvements are made to the BMP's.

Help wanted

The Glades Relief Group is asking Glades residents to help them make Christmas a little better for school children in Dade County who were affected by Hurricane Andrew.

Members of the organization are taking new toys to Miami Heights Elementary School, grades kindergarten through fifth grade on Monday, December 21. They are asking anyone who could donate to the cause to bring new toys to Cochran's BP Gas Station or to Larry's AC & Appliance.

"There are a lot of children there who are not going to have a lot for Christmas," says Merlene Cochran. "We are going to try to do what we can to help."

Discounted fair tickets available at local chambers

For ideas on great stocking stuffers, The Belle Glade and Pahokee Chambers of Commerce are offering South Florida Fair tickets at discounted prices.

The fair will be January 15 through 31 at the South Florida Fairgrounds. Discount tickets can be purchased at the Belle Glade Chamber Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m., and at the Pahokee Chamber of Commerce Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

The Belle Glade Chamber is located at 540 South Main Street. The Pahokee Chamber is located at 115 East Main Street, Pahokee.

Burglary Task Force is formed

By BRENDA BUNTING
SUN Editor

A rash of holiday burglaries is prompting Belle Glade police to combat the problem by forming a Burglary Task Force.

Chief of Police Michael Miller said there have been 138 burglaries since November 1, including 75 residential burglaries, 35 business burglaries and 28 auto burglaries.

"We have three lead people out there as a team, putting as much pressure and attention as possible on those people we suspect," said the chief.

"We've already arrested 12 or 13 people in the last 30 days, and we have more arrests planned."

Chief Miller said officers will be pulled from other assignments to concentrate on the burglaries.

Since November 1, 1992, police have arrested five juveniles and eight adults for various crimes including business burglaries, burglaries to homes and autos and one for burglary to a school.

More recently, police arrested another juvenile Dec. 14 and Tuesday arrested 25-year-old James Jean Benhomme of 610 C Covenant Drive, Belle Glade. Benhomme is charged with seven business burglaries in the past two months.

He was arrested for the burglary of Circle A Grocery on Dec. 12 and for robbing Jamrock Store two times. He also confessed to burglaries on November 13 and 14 and to robbing the Town Star on December 13.

The Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce has been burglarized three times since November 14. The last time, on Friday, December 11, the burglars took a calculator, a typewriter, a telephone and a coffee pot. They also trashed the office.

Pioneer Motor Sales on South Main Street was broken into six times before owner Clarence Pate cemented shut the windows at the back of the building.

He said thieves took over $5,000 worth of merchandise in the six burglaries.

The Days Inn, McCrory Department Store and McArthur Dairy have also been broken into in the past 60 days.

"We're trying to strike while the iron's hot," said Chief Miller, "but we're just losing the battle. This is more burglaries than are normal."

Sugar growers urge President Bush not to sign NAFTA

The Sugar Cane Growers Cooperative of Florida is opposed to President Bush's signing of the North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA) as he announced he would on December 17.

"The sugar provisions in NAFTA, as currently proposed, are likely to lead to the destruction of the U.S. Sugar Program to the detriment of the Florida sugar industry," said George E. Wedgworth, president of the Cooperative. "Unless the President amends these provisions as requested by the entire U.S. sugar industry, before he signs the agreement, we will be forced to join with the other forces which are opposed to the NAFTA and work vigorously for its defeat in Congress."

Because Congress has agreed to fast-track authority, once the President signs the agreement Congress can make no changes to NAFTA. "This is why we urge the President to address our concerns now," Mr. Wedgworth said.

"Mexico is a net importer of sugar. Its producers are less efficient than U.S. producers,

School Advisory Committee seeks answers on school construction

A press conference was held Wednesday morning by the Parent Advisory Committee (PAC) asking school board officials to respond to concerns about renovations in the gymnasium at Glades Central High School.

Board members told the school board that major renovations were to have been completed last year and were still not finished.

"Repairs were made on the gym's roof and floor a year ago," said Basil Anderson, PAC Chairman, "and now we're being told the work must be done over. The leaking continued despite the repairs, when we felt a new roof was the best solution to begin with."

Mr. Anderson said the PAC group felt the money was wasted, "when there already isn't enough money for education."

The committee is also concerned about delays in the school construction plan.

"We were told that all permits for the new school were to have been issued by October 1992, and that groundbreaking would occur in January and actual construction in February, 1993. Now we understand that as of December, the permits are still in process," Mr. Anderson said.

A new school for Glades Central was originally to have been built in 1986. The PAC committee says the current facility is unsafe, ill-equipped and deteriorating - without permanent repairs.

Mr. Anderson said the committee feels the condition of the school is having an adverse effect on the academic performance of the students.

Two down and more to go.

Belle Glade Police have made two more arrests in a rash of burglaries recently.

Ronnie Lee Rumph of 715 Mobile Home Park, Lot 186, Belle Glade, has been arrested for robbing the Washbowl Laundry at 1132 N.W. Avenue L.

Laundry clerk Doris Smith was beaten by the robber who then grabbed money from the cash register and ran.

Patrolman Martin Segura got to the laundry in time Monday afternoon to catch Rumph running from the area.

Ms. Smith was treated at Glades General Hospital and released.

Rumph was booked into the Palm Beach County Jail with bond set at $25,000.

A transient with several aliases was arrested in the Saturday afternoon burglary of Amalia Lincoln's home at 124 N.W. 12th Drive, Belle Glade.

Police responded to the call of a residential burglary in progress about 2:15 p.m. Friday. Witnesses said a man entered Ms. Lincoln's home through an unlocked back door. Ms. Lincoln was home at the time.

Once inside, the man removed a VCR and ran out the door.

The man was chased by Ms. Lincoln's neighbors and the first officer at the scene, but he was able to get away.

The next day the suspect was seen in the 500 block of S.W. Avenue B Place by one of the witnesses and Det. William T. Murphy arrested Graham. Graham is also known as Willey Graham and Willie Smith.

Graham was booked into the Palm Beach County Jail, Belle Glade under $10,000 bond by Judge Miller.

How come...There's never a mayor around when you need one? Because they're all at the Tri-Cities Barbecue. Here are South Bay Mayor, Clarence Anthony, left; Pahokee Mayor Ramon Horta, center; and Belle Glade Mayor Bill Bailey. The three are waiting their turns to speak to the crowd at the barbecue Friday, December 11, at the Belle Glade Marina.

Food fill up...Palm Beach County Parks Department employee Bill Openshaw gets a piece of cake from Debbie Buff, Belle Glade city employee, at the Tri-Cities Barbecue Friday afternoon. Lots of good food and interesting people were on hand at the event.

Foreign-born residents get help with immigration papers

Two Belle Glade women have set a goal of helping 100 Glades residents fulfill their longtime dreams of becoming U.S. citizens.

Oliga Hayes and Teresa Trevin have been helping Cuban-born and some Mexican-born residents fill out the paperwork to become U.S. citizens.

"We started November 11 and already we have helped 67 people," said Ms. Hayes. "Our goal is to help 100 people by the end of the year."

Ms. Hayes said many of the people they are helping have been residents of the area for years, but never applied for citizenship.

"They needed somebody to push them and some help filling out the forms," she said. "In Miami they are charging up to $100 a person for this service we are offering free," said Ms. Hayes. She said that although they have received requests from other areas, they are only offering help to residents in Belle Glade, Pahokee, South Bay and Canal Point.

In August of 1993 immigrants will be required to renew their residency papers at a cost of $70. Ms. Hayes said the cost to become a United States citizen is $90. She is using this information to convince people to take the extra step to become citizens.

"Most of the people have just been sitting around and haven't done it," she said. "We're pushing them to go ahead and do this and we're not charging for the service of helping them with the paperwork."

After submitting the paperwork to the Department of Immigration and Naturalization, immigrants must wait up to six months for the paperwork to be processed. Then they must take a test.

Residents must have been living in the United States for five years before they can apply for citizenship. If they are over 50 years of age and have been a legal resident of the U.S. for 20 years, they can take the U.S. Citizenship test in their native language.

For more information call Ms. Hayes at 996-2674.

Free fruit...and veggies were handed out to guests at the Tri-Cities Barbecue Friday afternoon at the Belle Glade Marina. Above, Chuck and Mary Haas tote their box of goodies as South Bay city employees Annette Parchment and Willie Johnson get another box ready.

Glades Central's Thespian play rates an "A" with judges "Break a leg!" Sarah Bennett exclaimed to her actors last Friday as they went on stage at the District 10, International Thespian Drama Festival at Florida Atlantic University.

Performing Snook, "A Story in Harlem Shang," on the first day of the festival, her troupe brought energy and talent to the stage.

Snook, an adaptation of a Sara Neale Hurston short story which George Wolfe incorporated into a play, featured Sheldon Harriet as "Jelly." Harriet, who won best actor for the troupe, was commended by the judges for the interaction between his character and "Sweetback," played by Alvin Nelson.

Rya Van Winkle served as narrator and as "Shang Talk Woman." Kenny Lutz, who played "Piano Man," and Van Winkle, opened the play by singing a duet which reflected the mood of the 1930's setting of the play.

To complete the cast, Alma Marquez played "The Girl."

"This was Marquez's first performance in competition," said Mrs. Bennett, "and I knew that she was going to be perfect in the part when she first read lines at tryouts."

Plays in the competition were judged by members of the professional theater. During the critique session, they complimented the entire cast for their energy, interaction and great lines.

Judges also said they were impressed with the costumes and the set. Overall, the play rated an excellent.

"I was really proud of my actors," said Mrs. Bennett. The competition was early this year, and I had to wait for Sheldon and Kenny to finish football season before we could practice regularly. But experience pays. My actors really pulled this play together."

Snook, along with other plays, will be performed again in February at Glades Central's annual evening of one act plays.

Two events planned for South Bay this weekend

Two events are planned in the City of South Bay this weekend: one to get citizens in the Christmas spirit, the other to entertain youth in the community.

Glades residents are invited to the annual Christmas caroling at the triangle in South Bay at 5:30 p.m. Participants will join in singing Christmas songs and enjoying the singing of the Rosenwald Elementary School choir, under the direction of Becky Watson.

The second event is a Fun Day in Tanner Park at 105 Palm Beach Road.

The event is open to the public. It is sponsored by the City of South Bay Parks and Recreation Department.

There will be a basketball tournament with 12 teams participating, tennis, handball, games, movies, and music.

Recreation attendants are Annette Miller and Tom Brown.

The Fun Day will run from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Sorority plans bazaar for December 22

Iota Omicron Zeta Chapter of Zeta Phi Sorority, Inc. will hold a Christmas Bazaar for children December 22 at the Lake Shore Civic Center at 10 a.m.

The bazaar will feature story telling, Christmas caroling, arts and crafts and distributions of toys, Christmas treat bags and storybooks for the children. President Mary Evans said the bazaar will emphasize the theme of Zeta Phi Beta Sorority which is World Class Service Extraordinaire.

The bazaar will be free to all children of the community.

Sorority meets for annual Christmas party and exchange

Members of Xi Zeta Mu met Monday, December 7 at the home of Jane Evans for their annual Christmas party.

Ms. Evans is the sponsor and mentor for Xi Zeta Mu and every year she gives a special dinner party for the members with all the trimmings topped with her warm hospitality.

All the girls received gifts from Ms. Evans. Secret Sisters were revealed and gifts exchanged.

Members said it was a beautiful evening and they extended their appreciation to Ms. Evans for her hospitality.

Glades Correctional Institution graduated almost one hundred men from various vocational and academic programs last Friday at the Institution's Chapel.

and the world is currently awash in surplus sugar," Mr. Wedgworth said. "Yet the NAFTA would encourage surplus Mexican production by granting unlimited access to the U.S. market after the sixth year of the agreement. Not even we, the U.S. growers, have unlimited access to the U.S. market."

In order to operate the U.S. Sugar Program at no cost to the U.S. Treasury, as has been done since 1985, and to ensure a share of the U.S. market to the 40 countries that have traditionally supplied a portion of this market, U.S. sugar producers have agreed to limit their production in any year U.S. imports would otherwise drop below specified minimums.

"If Mexico is permitted to export to the United States more sugar than we need, as proposed in NAFTA, this would not only displace all imports from these 39 other countries, but would depress the U.S. price and cause U.S. growers to forfeit their sugar to the government. This would effectively destroy the U.S. sugar program. Without our sugar program, U.S. producers will be displaced by sugar from the heavily subsidized world dump market."

"We are outraged that the U.S. Administration has negotiated such an unfair agreement," said Mr. Wedgworth. "We give less efficient Mexican producers unlimited access to our sugar market, put U.S. growers out of business and receive nothing in return. This agreement even provides the Mexican sugar producers a significant incentive to maximize their sugar surplus and thus exacerbate the oversupply of sugar to the detriment of U.S. producers and our traditional suppliers of sugar."

"We and the majority of the Florida Congressional delegation have presented our concerns to the administration on the unfairness and the dangers of the sugar provisions of the NAFTA," Mr. Wedgworth said. "We have been largely ignored by the administration. Unless the modifications we have requested are made, we will work diligently to defeat the agreement. And I believe that we can be successful."

The Sugar Cane Growers Cooperative of Florida represents 54 small to medium-size sugarcane farmers in the Everglades Agricultural Area. Major functions performed by the Cooperative for its members include the harvesting and processing of sugarcane as well as the marketing of raw sugar. Florida is the nation's largest cane sugar producing state with an economic impact of $1.8 billion employing 18,000 people.

Roses for some, onions for others
Hello.

I'm calling to send roses to all the participants of the Living Christmas Tree, for the past weekend was such a wonderful, inspiring program.

I'd also like to send onions to the people who brought their small children who disrupted the Living Christmas Tree performance, especially Carol Schmidt's beautiful solo.

Also, I'd like to send onions to the people who took more free tickets than they actually needed, causing people who would have come to see the performance not to attend as they were already sold out of tickets about three weeks ago.

Also, I'd like to send onions to the sound crew on Sunday for no microphones. Were they deaf? Sitting in the audience we missed the entire things that Brenda Lopez said, and also the children's speaking parts.

You have a good day.

Start the New Year by touching someone's life

Interested in discovering a new culture or in sharing your own culture with someone from another country? You can do so by becoming a host family for a foreign exchange student.

The Youth Exchange Service (YES) needs families interested in hosting a 15-18 year old student from around the world.

These students are due to arrive in January and will stay for the second semester of the 1992-93 school year.

They speak fair to good English at the time of arrival, have excellent Medical/Accidental Insurance and bring their own spending money.

Host families are asked to provide room, board and care and are eligible to receive a $50 tax deduction for each month they host.

For more information contact the nonprofit Youth Exchange Service at 4675 MacArthur Court, Suite 830, Newport Beach, California 92660, or call 1-800-848-2121.

County conducts study for our area's future

Palm Beach County's Planning Division is currently conducting a study to create a planned vision for our area's anticipated population increase of 900,000 residents by the year 2020.

This Urban Form Study will address questions like, "What does Palm Beach County look like today?", "What do we want the County to look like in the next 20 to 30 years?", and "How do we achieve this vision for our future?"

Public participation in this process is extremely important. Residents' input will help determine the county's goals and objectives to compose a design which will provide for better transportation patterns, locate major business centers and work places, and maintain open spaces for recreation.

The Palm Beach County

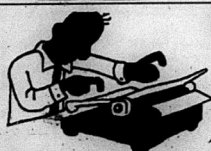

Planning Division will be happy to present a 20-minute video to civic groups explaining the study in greater detail. A questionnaire will be provided so residents may express their views for our County's future. Organizations interested in participating in the study should contact the County Planning Division at 407-233-5354.

Hurricane Andrew stimulated the economy

Destruction caused by Hurricane Andrew should be a short-term economic stimulus to Florida's lagging economy, a new University of Florida study finds.

Rebuilding South Florida in the aftermath of Hurricane Andrew is expected to lead to two-and-a-half years of higher employment than Florida would have experienced without the storm, said Carol Taylor West, forecasting director of UF's Bureau of Economic and Business Research, who led the study.

But by 1995 the hurricane's economic "silver lining" is expected to disappear, with Florida's economic activity little changed from what it would have been without the natural disaster, West said.

The influx of insurance and reconstruction funds following Hurricane Andrew's devastation poses the Florida economy for a temporary surge in building, repair and spending, leading to 10 quarters of higher employment than Florida would have otherwise experienced, West said.

However, Hurricane Andrew is not expected to give the "kick" to a sluggish economy that occurred in 1984 when Florida experienced 7.7 percent growth in employment, West said.

"Even with Hurricane Andrew, we will not come out of this recession like we did in the mid '80s," she said.

Hurricane Andrew is expected to strengthen an otherwise slow economy, generating 18,900 more jobs, mostly in construction, in the last quarter of 1992 than would have occurred without it, according to the study, which details both scenarios.

Had there been no hurricane, the state's employment growth rate would have been 2.8 percent instead of the 3.8 percent forecast for 1993. The study, the latest issue of "The Florida Outlook," also found that without Andrew, the unemployment rate would have been 7.2 percent instead of the anticipated 6.8 percent, West said.

"The positive impact continues into 1994, with jobs expected to average almost 40,000 more in that year than would have occurred without the hurricane," she said.

The employment boom includes jobs in construction cleaning up the destruction, in manufacturing rebuilding storm-damaged boats, in government in providing relief services, and in restaurants and bars serving emergency workers and insurance adjusters temporarily assigned to South Florida.

In addition, real personal income is projected to leap from 0.3 percent growth in 1992 to 4.9 percent in 1993. Two years later, however, it is expected to level off to about the same level it would have been without the hurricane, West said.

Similarly, taxable sales are forecast to jump to $143.7 billion in 1993, an increase of 7.5 percent over 1992, followed by a 6.9 percent gain in 1994, she said. But increases in sales still lag behind income growth, she said.

Most of the growth in jobs and earnings is expected in Dade County where the brunt of hurricane damage occurred. This will result in a brief boom for the Miami-Hialeah metro area followed by a sharp decline in 1995 as the number of jobs drops below the number anticipated without the hurricane, the study predicts.

Employment in the Miami-Hialeah metro area is expected to grow 5.5 percent in 1993, after two years of decline. Without the hurricane, it was forecast to grow only 0.8 percent next year, she said.

Questions answered daily by VA counselors

Question: I was in the reserves for six years. I recently heard that reservists are eligible for VA-guaranteed home loans. Is this true?

Answer: A new program for members of the Selected Reserve was signed into law October 28. Individuals with six years of service in the Selected Reserve will now be eligible for VA's loan guaranty benefit. Individuals no longer in the Selected Reserve must have served at least six years and have received an honorable discharge.

The program requires a two-percent funding fee on a no-down-payment loan. Reservists will pay the same funding fee as other veterans for manufactured home loans (1 percent), and interest rate reduction refinancing loans and assumptions (.5 percent). You may apply for a certificate of eligibility for this program using VA Form 26-1880, Request for Determination of Eligibility and Available Loan Guaranty Entitlement. Contact your nearest VA Regional Office for information. You may call VA's new nationwide toll-free number 1-800-827-1000; or, if you live in the local calling area, continue to use the local phone number.

Study demonstrates 79 percent reduction in stroke risk

A new national study demonstrates that low doses of the anticoagulant warfarin can reduce the risk of stroke by 79 percent in patients who suffer from a common heart irregularity known as atrial fibrillation (AF). The 16-site Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) Cooperative Study was published in The New England Journal of Medicine November 12.

More than one million Americans are at increased risk of stroke from atrial fibrillation. Therapy benefits are greatest for patients over 70 years of age - those who have the highest incidence of AF. Results of the study were so conclusive that an independent review panel halted it one year earlier than the three years projected so that the control group could also benefit from receiving the medication. Preliminary results of the study were released in 1991 in connection with an episode of AF experienced by President Bush.

Although previous studies have sought to examine treatment methods to reduce AF-related stroke, the study published November 12 - "Stroke Prevention in Non-Rheumatic Atrial Fibrillation" - is the only U.S. based, double-blind, placebo-controlled trial. Neither investigators nor patients were aware of who received the drug. The study was funded by the VA Cooperative Studies Program and directed from the West Haven, Connecticut, VA Medical Center.

"The medical community now has conclusive evidence that patients with chronic AF should be offered warfarin therapy unless there is a contraindication to treatment," said Principal Investigator Dr. Michael D. Ezekowitz, Chief of Cardiology at the West Haven VA Medical Center and professor of medicine at Yale School of Medicine. "We achieved a 79 percent reduction in the rate of stroke with low-dose warfarin. This included patients over 70 years old."

A consensus paper, published by the American College of Chest Physicians in the medical journal Chest, recommends treatment of AF as the most effective means to minimize the risk of systemic embolism. The preliminary study results contribute to the development of these recommendations, which are expected to become standard practice both in this country and abroad.

Of the 500,000 strokes reported annually in the United States, some 15 percent - 75,000 - are linked to AF; and AF is the single most important characteristic associated with stroke in patients over 70 years of age. Stroke remains the nation's third leading killer after heart disease and cancer, responsible for 145,000 deaths each year. Stroke is also the leading cause of disability in adults and is estimated to cost the nation about $25 billion per year in health care costs and lost wages.

"We estimate that if patients were routinely treated with anticoagulant therapy," said Mr. Ezekowitz, "the nation could save $2 billion in stroke-associated costs, as well as avoid the tragic consequences for patients and their families."

The study followed 525 patients with the most common type of AF, known as "non-rheumatic." During the trial, 260 male patients received low-dose warfarin and 265 received placebo. Patients were followed for an average of almost two years. During that period, there were 19 strokes among the placebo-control group during an average follow up of 1.7 years, and four strokes among the warfarin group during an average follow up of 1.8 years. Overall risk reduction with warfarin therapy was 79 percent.

In addition to its efficacy, the medication was found to be safe, with episodes of major bleeding equally distributed among the warfarin and placebo groups. Major hemorrhages, all gastrointestinal, occurred in 10 patients ages 52 to 94 years (four placebo, six warfarin).

The overall death rate, which reflected the patients' advanced years and included deaths not due to stroke, was lower in the warfarin group than in the control group (23 versus 15).

AF patients who have been diagnosed, but not treated, can obtain more information by calling the American College of Chest Physicians, 1-800-422-1225.

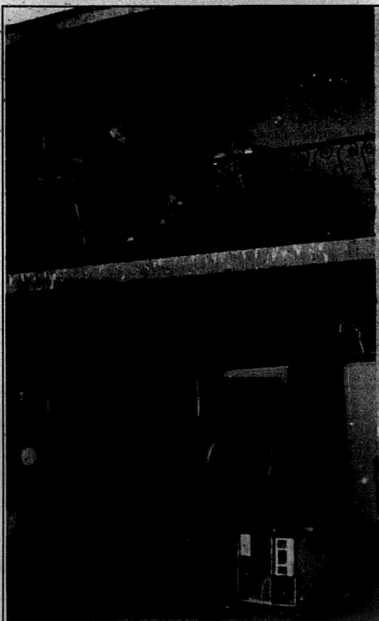

Two elected to local board

Juanita Malone and Desmond Harriott have been elected to serve as chair and vice-chair of the Glades Community Board.

Mrs. Malone, Assistant Principal of Belle Glade Elementary School, is married to Nathaniel Malone, Jr. She serves as President of NOAH Development Corporation, and is a member of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, National Education Association, Phi Delta Kappa, Palm Beach Child Sexual Abuse Project, and West Area Family Service Planning Team.

Mr. Harriott, Youth For Christ Glades Area Club Director, is married to Cecilia Harriott, a math instructor at Glades Central High School. He is the father of Sheldon, Andre and Claude Harriott.

The Glades Community Board is the governing body of the Glades Community-based Development Project, a project funded by the Bernard Van Leer Foundation, John D. and Catherine T. MacArthur Foundation, Charles Stewart Mott Foundation, and the Community Foundation for Palm Beach and Martin Counties. The Glades Project Office is located at 127 S.E. Martin Luther King Blvd., Belle Glade.

Suds n Soot...A fire in an apartment above the Sudsy City Laundromat at 721 S.W. Avenue E brought firemen rushing to the scene last Friday morning. It took them only a few minutes to bring the fire under control. The fire was confined to a closet in the bedroom of the apartment. The occupant, Joseph Colas, was not at home at the time of the fire. He is employed at Okeelanta. The Red Cross is assisting him. Above, firemen prepare to enter the apartment.

U.S. Sugar donates $10,000 in food to needy

United States Sugar Corporation, along with 25 local non-profit agencies and the Volunteer Bureau of the United Way of Palm Beach County have distributed more than $10,000 worth of fresh produce donated by U.S. Sugar to local non-profit agencies for the holidays.

Local agencies will pick up 2,000 holiday tote boxes to be distributed to needy families.

They care about others...Students at Lake Shore Middle School stood in line Friday morning to donate toys to Toys for Tots for the less fortunate. The students were each asked to donate one toy to be eligible to get in free to an after-school dance. The Honor Society is sponsoring the event for the Junior Red Cross to get the Toys for Tots donations. A similar dance held before Thanksgiving netted 1,200 cans of food for needy families. Shown on the left is Arrivais Givens, seventh-grade student with Raymond (last name unknown).

A gift that keeps on giving...Leta Lanier, out-going President of The Ladies Auxiliary of Glades General Hospital presented a check for $6,000 to Hospital Administrator Neil Whipkey recently. The money will be used for O.E. equipment for the new O.B. wing of Glades General that will open in January. These ladies are our biggest fans and supporters and we're just as happy about them," said Mr. Whipkey. The Auxiliary has given $13,682.24 to the hospital in 1992. Some of the money was raised through bake sales, jewelry sales, shoe sales, uniform sales and through the gift shop. Mrs. Audrey Pierce is the buyer for the gift shop since Mrs. Jo Knight moved from the area.

Chancel Choir at CUMC to present Cantata

The Chancel Choir of Community United Methodist Church will present a Christmas Cantata "The King", on Dec. 20 at 7:30 p.m. The arrangement is by David T. Clydesdale.

The choir soloists are Milton Carpenter, Garry Davis, Rachel Hollingsworth, Ken Lutz, Carol Schmidt, Becky Watson, and will feature the trio Genesis Two made up of Mary-Anne Hollingsworth, Monica Schmidt and Emily Watson.

A cast of performers led by Ken Lutz as Benjamin lends drama to this production. The musical presentation is directed by Carol Schmidt, with piano accompaniment by Karen Corbin. Drama and costumes are under the direction of Mary Alma Stevenson and Sue Kidder. The Community United Methodist Church is located at 401 S.W. First Street. The event is free and open to the public.

Dr. Peter Rosendahl named to Flo-Sun's Environmental Affairs

Dr. Peter C. Rosendahl, 48, economy. Pete will be our point man."

Prior to this appointment, Dr. Rosendahl served as vice president for Environmental Relations for the Florida Sugarcane League and held a similar position with the Florida Phosphate Council. While with the Council, the phosphate industry demonstrated its leadership in Wetlands Restoration, and received awards from national and state environmental organizations for its efforts.

Dr. Rosendahl, who has masters and Ph.D. degrees in ocean and environmental engineering from the University of Miami, has been involved professionally in water conservation for over 15 years. Between 1977 and 1982 he served with the United States Department of Interior as a research hydrologist for Everglades National Park and the Big Cypress National Preserve. As part of his work there, he devised the first water quality plans ever developed for the park.

Recognized for his efforts on behalf of the environment, Dr. Rosendahl is highly regarded by both environmental groups and industry. In 1980 he was named Water Conservationist of the Year by the National and Florida Wildlife Federations. During his career he has served on or headed numerous important water use and management commissions, including the recently formed lower east coast Water Supply Committee, the Lake Okechobee Technical Advisory Committee, the State of Florida Water Use Study, the Southwest Florida Water Management District Water Conservation Task Force and the Florida Institute of Phosphate Research.

He also served on the board of the Florida Wildlife Federation, Florida Defenders of the Environment, The Florida Conservation Association, and the Florida Air and Waste Management Association.

The appointment of Dr. Rosendahl reflects our decision not merely to cooperate with environmental activists, but to be one," said Don Carson, Flo-Sun's executive vice president, in announcing the appointment. "Our community enjoys some of the most attractive natural surroundings in the world. We intend to be in the vanguard of preserving it for future generations and providing for those generations a diverse, vibrant and growing

Barnett Banks merger

Barnett Banks, Inc. completed its merger with First Florida Banks, Inc. at the close of business Monday, December 7.

First Florida shareholders will receive 1.42 shares of Barnett common stock for each of their First Florida shares, increasing Barnett's outstanding shares by 22.5 million.

The addition of First Florida's $5.5 billion in assets makes Barnett the 17th-largest banking company in the United States with more than $38 billion in assets. Its pro forma market capitalization is more than $4 billion.

The merger combines two banks which have been serving Florida for more than 100 years. Together, they are one of the largest private employers in the state and the only Super-Regional banking company based in Florida.

"We welcome First Florida's customers and look forward to providing the same quality service that they enjoyed at First Florida," said Charles E. Rice, Barnett chairman and chief executive officer.

CVI installs new service

Cablevision Industries has installed equipment which makes it possible to have emergency announcements made over the cable television system to its viewers, regardless of what channel they are watching.

In case of an emergency, the Palm Beach County Emergency Operations Center (EOC), a division of Emergency Management, will coordinate the dissemination of emergency announcements and related information.

According to Douglas Kelly, General Manager of CVI, "The EOC now has the capability of gaining access to the audio on all of the channels we carry, thus providing an important means of reaching cable viewers in times of emergency."

The CVI system was set up independent of all other Palm Beach County cable operators, who also provide this capability. This allows the EOC to make announcements specifically within our community.

Gary Phillips joins Sid Banack Insurance Agency

Gary Phillips, former Glades area resident, has returned to Palm Beach County and is joining the production staff of Sid Banack Insurance.

Gary and his wife, Donna, recently sold their insurance agency in Melbourne, where they have been living since 1983.

One of Gary's goals will be to develop new business in the Glades area.

Sid Banack Insurance has specialized in agricultural and other types of insurance for more than 35 years and has relationships with CIGNA, Auto-Owners, American States, Zurich, USF&G, Travelers, Hartford, and CNA.

WHIPLASH

Whiplash injuries can result from a sudden backward and forward whipping movement of the neck, caused by an auto collision, a fall, a powerful slap on the back, or even a violent sneeze. The ligaments and muscles controlling the spinal segments are stretched or sprained, allowing the vertebrae to slip into abnormal positions. Nerves are then "pinched" or irritated, giving rise to headaches, nausea, dizziness and other pain.

Holiday Snifles - Nothing To Sneeze At

Ventilate

Surprising to many of us is that those cold or flu-like symptoms can actually be touched off by air pollution inside our homes. The causes can be as common as house dust or as seemingly innocent as Christmas trees and decorative flowers.

Short of living in a sterile room, there's no way to completely eliminate indoor allergen. However, a leading maker of air quality control equipment, suggest these three steps to minimize them in your home.

Remove or Control Sources

Some of the things you can do to get rid of the causes are:

- Steam clean carpeting and stuffed furniture.
- Wash bedding weekly in water at least 130 degrees hot to control dust mites.
- Clean humidifiers and dehumidifiers, and keep the house dry and humidity controlled so you aren't cultivating mold, mildew and mites.
- No smoking. There's now a lot of strong evidence that children who live in houses where grownups smoke have more allergic diseases and asthma.

Many homes are admirably insulated and energy tight. Unfortunately, that means there's so little fresh air getting in that indoor air pollution can build up to levels far higher than that outside.

An energy recovery ventilator expels stale air and brings in fresh outside air without the obvious energy or comfort penalties that opening a window would impose.

Clean the Air

There's no substitute for clean air. Unfortunately, most indoor air pollution blows right through an ordinary furnace filter and right back into your home.

- Standard furnace filters catch only a small portion of pollutants and will recycle even dust throughout the house if they aren't cleaned or replaced regularly.
- An electronic air cleaner can remove up to 95 percent of most common indoor airborne allergens including dust mites, mold, pollen and animal dander.
- There's growing medical evidence that high efficiency air cleaners can provide relief to many people.

Flu-like symptoms can be triggered by Christmas trees and other indoor pollutants.

Special Census for South Bay, Fl.

You Count!
Please Answer the Special Census

Why?

The Constitution of the United States requires that we take the census every 10 years. The 1990 census was the 200th anniversary of the first census in 1790. Fair representation in the U.S. House of Representatives, state legislatures, and many local governing bodies is based on the census. Using census figures, Federal, state and local governments plan transportation systems, school construction, and health facilities. Businesses also use census statistics for their planning. To take a good census, we need your help.

Special Censuses are conducted by cities to boost the annual revenues it receives from the state. The city receives money from income tax and motor fuel taxes based on the population count from the most recent census. An accurate population count means more money for the city to provide services such as police, fire protection, and street maintenance.

How?

Information about people living or staying here will be obtained by a census taker who will visit during the next 2 to 3 weeks.

Your Answers are Safe and Secure

For the next 72 years, only sworn Census Bureau workers - and no one else - will have access to the information you provide. The collection of census information is authorized by a law, Title 13, United States Code, Sections 8 and 196, that protects the confidentiality of your answers. Participation in the special census is not mandatory, but your cooperation will benefit you and your community.

Por Favor, Conteste el Censo Especial.

¿Por Qué?

La Constitución de los Estados Unidos requiere que nosotros tomemos el censo cada 10 años. El censo que se llevó a cabo en 1990 representó el bicentenario, desde el primer censo en 1790. Una representación justa en la Cámara de Representantes, en la legislatura del estado, y muchos cuerpos gubernamentales son basados en las cifras del censo. Los gobiernos Federal, del estado y local usan los números del censo para planificar los sistemas de transporte, la construcción de escuelas y las facilidades de salud. Los negocios también usan las estadísticas del censo en su planificación. Necesitamos su ayuda para tomar un buen censo.

Censo Especiales son pedidos por las ciudades para aumentar los ingresos anuales que reciben del estado. La ciudad recibe dinero de contribuciones sobre ingresos y impuestos sobre el combustible de motor basado en la cantidad de población del censo más reciente. La cantidad exacta de la población significa más dinero para la ciudad para proveer servicio, tal como, policía, protección de fuego, y mantenimiento de carreteras.

¿Cómo?

Un enumerador del censo lo visitará en 2 a 3 semanas para obtener información acerca de las personas que viven o se quedan aquí.

Sus Contestaciones Están Seguras.

Por los próximos 72 años, sólo empleados juramentados del Negociado del Censo, y nadie más, tendrán acceso a la información que usted provea. Recopilación de información para el censo está autorizada por la ley, Título 13, Código de los Estados Unidos, Sección 8 y 196 que protege la confidencialidad de sus respuestas. Participación al censo especial no es mandatorio, pero su cooperación beneficiará a usted y su comunidad.

Glades Day School's jv Gators score big in tournament

Tournament winners...more or less. Second place winners, anyway. They are the junior varsity Lady Gator basketball team. They're seen here being happy spectators (they'd be even happier if the varsity were ahead) at last Thursday's girls basketball game between Glades Day and Christian Day. They've also just returned from Clewiston, where they took second place in a tournament.

Raider girls number one in state

Jump shot...GCCHS Raider Anjanette Gilbert goes up for two points Tuesday night as the Raiders beat Clewiston's Lady Tigers 56-26. Arms up, hoping to block Gilbert's shot, is Clewiston's #50, Tanya Collins. Gilbert had 26 points Tuesday. SUNPHOTO BY CHIP NEWTON

Miracle worker...Mireya DeLa Cerda, Crusader #12, is another high-energy player with remarkable basketball skills. She's fast and agile, and steals the ball easily from taller players. She also hits the hoop. She's got our vote for player of the week. SUNPHOTO BY CHIP NEWTON

Don't...bite your tongue. Michelle Williams makes her foul shots with lots of body English. She's seen here last Thursday evening as the Crusaders and Glades Day's Gators met at Christian Day. The Crusaders won 43-34. SUNPHOTO BY CHIP NEWTON

No smiley-faces here...And here's why: these are Glades Day School's Lady Gators, and they're seen here trailing Christian Day's Crusaders last Thursday evening. The Crusaders won, although the Gators managed a second half rally that looked like it might catch them up to the Crusaders. It didn't. Left to right are Yvette Graydon, Carmen Ruiz, Cyndi Hood, Marcy Angel, and Jaci Davis. SUNPHOTO BY CHIP NEWTON

GC Raider girls still number one

Glades Central Community High School's Lady Raiders basketball team is still ranked number one in the state. Monday night the girls blasted William T. Dwyer 65-25 at Dwyer for their sixth consecutive win. Tuesday night they beat Clewiston's girls 56-26.

In Tuesday night's game, Anjanette Gilbert scored 26 points, 12 from the floor, and two from the line, as well as grabbing 22 rebounds.

Shundra Smith hit seven from the floor and two from the line for 16 points.

Temple Dowdell and Phyllis Brooks each had five points.

Pahokee boys dropping back

The Pahokee Blue Devils boys basketball team is not off to a good start this year. The boys' record is now 0-5 after Tuesday night's loss to Lake Worth's Trojans, 102-70.

Pahokee girls beat Falcons

The Pahokee High School Lady Blue Devils beat Forest Hill's Lady Falcons Thursday night 28-26.

Edwina Harden hit five from the floor and missed three from the line for ten points. Keisha James hit four from the floor for eight points, Tabitha Atkins had six points, and Latasia Davis and Jacarada Banks each scored one from the floor for two points.

Hoops: CD girls top GD's

Marshette Bowens had 14 points and nine rebounds as the Crusaders beat the Gators. Lisa Glass had 11 points; Mireya DeLa Cerda had seven and several steals.

For the Gators, Yvette Graydon, Jaci Davis, and Cathy Sears each had eight points.

Miss DeLa Cerda is our pick for player of the week for her aggressive and competent play.

Christmas Musical
Tomorrow night, December 18, GCCHS's band and chorus will give a musical presentation for the season. For your enjoyment, join them at the gym at 7:15 p.m.

Science Fair Winners

Last Thursday Ms. Susan Machock, science department chairman, announced the 1992-93 Science Fair winners. Congratulations to Shawn Stambaugh for his Best All Around project on conditions of sugar cane growth and first place in Biology.

Other winners in biology were Sharon Ricketts, second place; Shaka Jasper, third; and Vanisha Brown, honorable mention.

In chemistry, Kenny Lutz won first place, Alexa Lutz placed second, and Beth Buchanan received third with Cammie Ozuna as honorable mention.

In physics, first went to Nicodis Higgins, Della Johnson was awarded second, Tiffany Breachy, third; and Staceyann Hannigan, honorable mention.

The Fair had 302 entries. The county competition will be February 23 at the South Florida Fairgrounds.

The science department wishes to commend all participants and thank Mrs. Clayton, media specialist, for her patience and cooperation.

Dwyer Award

Desmond Mahon, Glenn Hoard, and Linda Edgcomb are the faculty and staff's nominees for the William T. Dwyer Award as Teachers of the Year from GCCHS. Each will be completing a portfolio for general, vocational, and special education, respectively. Education demands great teachers and these three teachers are just that—great. This recognition program is sponsored by the Economic Council of the Palm Beaches.

Wrestling Update

December 19 signals the Christmas Wrestling Tournament at Boca. While the rest of us may be on vacation, the following young men and Coach Frank Lasagna will be busy. The team includes Trafari Bailey, Aron Bighams, Al Bradley, Dexter Brockman, Joseph Brown, Reginald Butts, Charles Charleston, Senica Chastine, Bruce Clarke, Nathaniel Cummings, Tavares Curry, and Maquell Davis.

Alfred Dennard, Willie Dunning, Lenardo Ellick, Brock Evans, Howard Felix, Andre Finkley, Guillermo Gonzales, Kelvin Greer, and Larry Harden are competing.

So are Fred Hollander, Leandra Hughes, Joaquin McGowan, Jimmie Moreland, Anthony Pino, Joshua Saddler, Jerry Seymour, Lewis Taylor, Steven Taylor, Ronnie Thompson, Reginald Walker, George Wilcher, Levon Williams, and Christopher Young.

Best wishes to the squad. With the holiday season and all the food associated with it, may they keep their weight in control!

Students of the Week

Recent winners of the student of the week awards for academic achievement, conduct, and service are freshmen Veronica Mendoza and Ernest Coney; sophomores Lyrdand Joseph and Demole Stanley; juniors Kimberly Woodley and Melvin Stinson; and seniors Yvonne Rountree and Virgilio Maldonado.

National Honor Society

Today, there are many new members of the National Honor Society. An induction program was held today to honor those new students for being chosen. The sponsor of the club is Mrs. Cynthia Brown.

Happy Holidays

While we students are supposed to have a vacation for two weeks, there are books to be read and reports to be written. In any case, best wishes to all, happy holidays, and see ya next year!

Knightly News

Living Tree

Fifth grade students Evelyn Fabelo, Jason Morris, and Emily Reese participated in the Living Christmas Tree performance at the Doly Hand Cultural Arts Center earlier this month.

The students received letters of appreciation from Dr. Helen Franke, Provost of Palm Beach Community College's Belle Glade Campus, last Friday.

Betrothed couple honored

Two C.D.S. high school teachers who will be wed in Palatka during the Christmas holidays were honored at the school's annual staff Christmas party Saturday, December 12.

Jack and Joyce Chambler's home on Tabit Road was the scene for the affair from 7 p.m. until 10 p.m. The couple were feted with shower gifts that they delighted in opening. Elementary staff presented coaches D.J. Springman and Tracy Gulleddge a big vacuum cleaner.

Santa Breakfast

The senior class and a host of sponsors and volunteers helped to serve a Santa Breakfast for the community children and parents. The traditional bacon, eggs, grits, juice, Danishes, coffee, biscuits, and jelly were served.

During the breakfast the children received a visit from Santa, where they told him what they hoped to receive for Christmas and proceeded to take pictures with Santa.

A host of parents, teachers, and students worked very hard to take pictures, prepare breakfast, sell baked goods and also sell rummage items. The money's received will go to benefit the senior class and the parent committee for project graduation.

The senior class would like to thank the following people for their time and donations: Ms. Shaw and the Middle School student council; Ms. Edna McClendon; Ms. Rosemary Cunningham; Mrs. Hymman; Ms. Bush; Ms. Egan; Mrs. Balzano; Mrs. Burroughs; Ms.

Abner; Ms. Gates; Ms. Parkkin; Mrs. Collier; Mrs. Hickman; Ms. Gilmore; Ms. Baines; Ms. Wallace.

The Santa Breakfast was a huge success. If there was anyone left out it was not intentional.

Special Service

The Pahokee Middle School student council service project for the month of December The P.H.S. TMH unit will receive a Christmas party with gifts included by the middle school student council.

Each member of the student council is responsible for purchasing a gift for another TMH student on their own. There were no student council funds allocated for this activity each student spends his or her own money. The following are the officers and members of the middle school student council:

Christmas Caroling

Pahokee Middle School High School's TMH unit will be giving a little joy to some other deserving people this Christmas.

Since everyone on P.H.S. campus have been so nice and kind to the children involved in the TMH unit the children feel like giving some of that special warm feeling back to some other deserving folks.

The TMH unit students will be visiting the senior citizen residents at the Glades Health Center to sing Christmas Carol and give out plenty of hugs.

Retiring?

There's no way

Pahokee Middle Senior High School's own Ms. Elizabeth Abner will be retiring from P.H.S. after 26 years of service. Ms. Abner retires on December 18.

Many of Ms. Abner's co-workers are sad to see her go as well as the students are sad. Ms. Abner's co-workers say they'll miss her dearly because whenever you need her she's always there.

Through Ms. Abner's years at P.H.S. she's had many different positions at P.H.S. She's been an administrator, resource teacher, regular teacher, librarian and a friend to many of the students.

Many of the students at P.H.S. will miss Ms. Abner dearly. She is one of the most, sweetest people you could ever meet. Ms. Abner has been described as a active person with a budding personality. Good luck Ms. Abner and enjoy your retirement.

Scientists now believe that genetics play a role in who gets Parkinson's disease.

Winn-Dixie Cares.

The devastation left behind by Hurricane Andrew defies words. Even pictures cannot fully tell the story of the people who are left homeless, hungry and with nothing but the clothes on their backs. These people are the reason Winn-Dixie is saying "Even-U-Up." The proceeds of this program will allow the Salvation Army to help your neighbors in the south. The next time you shop at any Winn-Dixie store, just ask the cashier to Even Up your total to the next dollar or five dollars. Whatever you wish to donate will be a tremendous help to those who are desperately in need.

Griffin - Escobar to wed

A December 19 wedding is planned for Julia Angelica Griffin and Otto Javier Escobar. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Griffin of Belle Glade. She is a 1991 graduate of Christian Day School where she was the valedictorian. She is presently attending Palm Beach Community College and plans to attend University of South Carolina for pre-med.

He is the son of Mr. Escobar of Guatemala. His mother and stepfather are Jose and Perdida Villacres of Belle Glade.

He graduated from Glades Central Community High School and was presented the Drafting and Architectural Achievement Award. He is presently in the United States Marines and is stationed at Beaufort, South Carolina, receiving training in computers.

Family and friends are invited to the wedding which will be at Belle Glade Alliance Church, 425 East Canal Street, North, Belle Glade, at 7 p.m. A reception will follow at Belle Glade Civic Center.

Exchanged Christmas ornaments and enjoyed finger foods.

Santa comes to CDS
Santa Claus arrived in a red truck outside C.D.S. December 11; much to the delight of elementary and high school students on a cold, windy day.

Little ones scrambled to get goodies thrown by Santa and sang popular Christmas songs such as "Santa Claus is Coming to Town."
High School Key Club members later met their "little brothers and sisters" from the elementary grades in Santa's Shop. The shop is an annual fund-raising event for the school as students and staff select gifts for the holiday season.

Gator Tales

It's beginning to look a lot like Christmas!

Glades Day's faculty and students are getting into the spirit of the holidays with Christmas concerts, door decorating, and service projects for the area's less fortunate.

National Honor and Junior Honor Society members worked with the American Red Cross to sponsor the Holiday Stocking program at GDS. Students in K-12 were asked to bring items to fill empty stockings for local needy day care center children. Many donations poured in - enough to give the children in the area a brighter Christmas!

The Gator Glee Club presented its annual Christmas concert Tuesday, December 15, at the Dolly Hand Cultural Arts Center. This year's theme was "Forever Christmas," and included performances by the Junior Glee Club and handbell choir as well as a "Candlelight Ceremony of Carols." As always, director Janis Fliels and the students did a superb job!

Another holiday program that warmed everyone's hearts was the elementary Christmas concert held December 10. Youngsters in K-3-12 grades performed classic favorites such as "Jingle Bells," "Up on the House Top," and "Rudolph, the Red-Nosed Reindeer." Next, narrators Jack Alston and Jai Subramanya took the audience through Christmas in many places, with each grade (2-6) representing a country/estate. Students took turns playing Joseph and Mary in the nativity scene as their class sang.

The program ended with all students singing "Silent Night," and featuring a duet of Natalie

Alvarez and Vanessa Horta in "Noche de Paz."

The Student Council sponsored a Christmas door decorating contest Monday, December 14, with the winners receiving a free breakfast of doughnuts and drink this Friday. First place went to Coach Pete Walker's eleventh graders "Rudolph, the Red-Nosed Reindeer." Ms. Rita Schoenfeld's freshmen came in second with "Granny Got Run Over by a Reindeer," and the seniors in Coach Mandy Perez's class took third with Santa Claus stuck in a chimney.

School will be excused at 12:15 this Friday for the Christmas holidays and resume Monday, January 4.

HAPPY HOLIDAYS!

Evans gets Navy training

Navy Firearm Recruit Sandgenne Evans, daughter of Nellie Evans of 207 Shirley Drive, Pahokee, recently completed basic training at Recruit Training Command, Orlando.

During the training cycle, she was taught general military subjects designed to prepare them for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 85 occupational fields.

Studies include seamanship, close-order drill, naval history, and first aid.

Ms. Evans, a 1992 graduate of Pahokee Middle Senior High School, joined the Navy in September, 1992.
